The Passion of St. John the Baptist August 29:

John the Baptist is the forerunner of the Lord Jesus Christ, and son of Zacharias and Elizabeth, was born about six months before Jesus Christ. John was a Nazarite from his birth and spent his early years in the mountains tract of Judea lying between Jerusalem and the Dead Sea. He led a simple life, wearing rope fiber clothing and eating "locusts and wild honey". When he arrived at thirty years of age, he began his ministry. He began preaching repentance and turning away from selfish pursuits. He induced many persons to confess their sins, whom he baptized in the river Jordan, exhorting them to believe in him who was coming after him; and who would baptize with the Holy Ghost and with fire. He denounced the Sadducees and Pharisees as a "generation of vipers," and warned them not to assume their heritage gave them special privilege. He warned tax collectors and soldiers against extortion and plunder. His doctrine and manner of life stirred interest, bringing people from all parts to see him on the bank of the Jordan River. There he baptized thousands unto repentance. When Jesus presented himself to receive baptism from him, John excused himself, saying "I need rather being baptized by you", but Jesus declaring that it became them to fulfill all righteousness, John complied.

His public ministry was suddenly brought to a close by being cast into prison by Herod, whom he had reproved for the sin of having taken to himself the wife of his brother Philip. John the Baptist was shut up in the castle of Machaerus, a fortress on the southern extremity of Persea. He was beheaded at the instigation of Herodias. His disciples, having consigned the headless body to the grave, went and told Jesus all that had occurred. John's death occurred apparently just before the third Passover of Jesus ministry.
